Are you traveling to Italy? Do you want to go to the Vatican Museums in Rome and buy tickets in Italian? Or, do you simply like the sounds of la bella lingua? Join us! We’ll explore sounds, vocabulary and simple interactions in the context of Italy’s most famous museums and art galleries. Class taught by a native speaker.

Myriam Stangherlin was born and raised in the Venice area, Italy. She received a BA in American Literature and an MA in Foreign Language Education from Ca’ Foscari University in Venice. In 2009, she moved to the Quad Cities. She has taught Italian classes at CommUniversity, Scott Community College and Gilda’s Club.

Class registration is due Wednesday, February 29. To register, please contact Heather Aaronson at 563.326.7804 x2045.

Not sure learning Italian is right for you? Join us for a “teaser” class at 7 pm Thursday, February 16, as part of our Thursdays at the Figge series. Myriam will present a program on Italy, showing pictures of Venice, Florence, Rome, Naples and other “art” cities as she introduces you to this beautiful language.
